PREMIER EXHIBITOR AWARD

Exhibitor Defined—Exhibitor must be the owner. In case a herd is registered or bred in the names of different members of a family, residing on one farm or breeding establishment, and where the herd is one unit, all entries may be considered as a single exhibitor. However, members of one family, where cattle are not housed as one unit, will not be considered as a single exhibitor.

Enter all animals that are eligible for this award. The top six animals will be counted. The exhibitor with the most points (not exceeding 6 animals) will be the Premier Exhibitor.
In classes with ten or less animals, no more than two head per exhibitor will be counted toward premier points.
