

RISK MANAGEMENT PLAN AND EMERGENCY CONTACT INFORMATION NATIONAL 4-H DAIRY JUDGING CONTEST

Management:

- Risk Management: A written risk management plan was developed, posted on the website, and a copy for participants included in their registration packet.
- Fiscal Management: All income and expenses are handled through the World Dairy Expo (WDE) office and their rules and regulations are followed.
- Administrative Management: No contractual agreements are entered into for this event. All agreements are with the WDE office.
- The NATIONAL 4-H DAIRY JUDGING CONTEST Management team and World Dairy Expo have developed rules and policies to ensure the safety of all participants, employees, coaches, and volunteers during the event. These are posted on the registration website (<http://worlddairyexpo.com/pages/4-H-Contests.php>) and a copy is provided to the Contest Superintendent.
- Each state must verify that all participants, employees, coaches, and volunteers from each Land Grant University has a signed medical form with permission for medical treatment, a photo release and Code of Conduct, Medical/accident Insurance and Liability Coverage from the time of departure from their state until return.
- Each state must verify that their state has a Risk Management Plan for participants and must follow their LGU plan.
- Each state must verify that all coaches and chaperones accompanying the group have been background checked, screened, and accepted as volunteers by their land-grant university (LGU).
- Official judges, moderators, contest officials, and staff working with the contest officials will be functioning under the operating procedures, practices, and scope of duties with oversight and risks associated with their own LGU. If they are not associated with a LGU, they will be functioning under the operating procedures, practices, and scope of duties with oversight and risks associated with the University of Wisconsin-Madison.
- Additional volunteers on management teams and/or individuals who work for the management team will be functioning under the operating procedures, practices, and scope of duties with oversight and risks associated with their own LGU.
- The event is planned in a manner that does not allow for “one adult to one youth” situations.
- Emergency Management Plan will be distributed to the management team, coaches, and chaperones in their packets during the coach’s banquet.
- Emergency Information for participants will be shared with all youth and participants.

Emergency Response and Crisis Communication

Emergency Response and Communication Team: In case of emergency, communication will go through the announcers stand on the Coliseum floor in the morning and through the Contest Superintendent in the afternoon in the Exhibition Hall.

National 4-H Dairy Judging Contest Emergency Response Contact Information

Amber Vander Poel, (559)260-8310

Laura Herschleb, (608) 224-6455

In every emergency, safety is the primary concern.

Priority attention is given as follow:

- Care for injured
- Stabilize the situation
- Contact the individuals at the announcers stand or reasons room who will then: radio WDE Management to notify on-site aide units (if incident occurs in the Coliseum) or call 911 (if incident occurs in Exhibition Hall)
- Cooperate with and follow instructions of emergency responders
- Work through situations that are not being handled by emergency responders

Electronic copies of all entry forms with the coach’s emergency contact numbers will be in the tabulation area on the second floor of the Exhibition Hall.

Emergency Information for Participants at the National 4-H Dairy Judging Contest

A designated safe area to meet should be located for your group. The area you will meet is _____.

Follow these emergency procedures as below:

In Case of a Medical Emergency:

- Do NOT move the injured person
- Immediately contact the group leader that you have been assigned
- First aid will be administered as appropriate

In Case of FIRE:

- Youth are NOT to attempt to put out a fire
- Report the fire to your group leader immediately
- Get out of the building and assemble together in the parking lot directly northwest of the Coliseum
- Stay outside of the building until released by a member of the contest management team
- If others in your group are not in the safe area, notify the adults in charge immediately

In Case of SEVERE WEATHER:

- Remain calm.
- Follow the instructions of your group leaders
- Go to designated safe area as designated by World Dairy Expo management
- Contest Management with direction from World Dairy Expo management will monitor National Weather Service announcements and declare the “All Clear” once the threatening weather has passed

In Case of a MISSING PERSON:

- Alert group leaders immediately
- Report details—describe the missing person, location where the individual was last seen, etc.
- A member of the Contest Management team will quickly organize a “sweep” of the immediate area for the missing person
- If the missing person is not located, Contest Management Team personnel will contact World Dairy Expo management or the on-grounds Security

In Case of an INTRUDER:

- Alert the person at the announcers stand or group leader immediately.
- Do NOT approach the intruder for any reason
- A Contest Management Team member will investigate and notify the local law enforcement and World Dairy Expo management as needed

In Case of a Threat from the Outside...Lock Down Procedures:

- Follow the instructions given to you by group leaders, official judges or management team
- Gather into a safe area of the building and lock all doors and windows, if possible
- Group Leader will notify World Dairy Expo management or the on-grounds Security
- Remain calm, silent, hidden from view of the intruder, and watch/listen for signals from the safe persons in charge
- Assist others who have trouble following instructions.
- As soon as possible, conduct a headcount to determine if all are present and/or accounted for

Management Team Members

Amber Vander Poel- Superintendent
David Erf, Zoetis – Assist. Sup.
Brenda Meyer, Land O’ Lakes – Assist. Sup.

Hosts

University of Wisconsin - Madison
Chad Dechow, Pennsylvania State University – Chair
Ted Halbach, University of Wisconsin-Madison
Larissa Tucker, University of Kentucky
Doug Waterman, Trouw Nutrition
Laura Herschleb, World Dairy Expo, Inc.
Dr. George Heersche, Emeritus, University of Kentucky